ABOUT ORGANISERS:

The International Centre, Goa (ICG)

The International Centre, Goa (ICG) was founded in June 1987 under the Societies Registration Act (1860) “to promote understanding and amity between parts of the country and with different communities of the world” through a multiplicity of activities. The Centre is an autonomous institution. It relies on grants and donations from local and international institutions to fund its programmes. Residential and non-residential conferences, seminars and training programmes are organized by local, national and international organizations. The Centre also has 44 guest rooms, 3 seminar halls, a restaurant, and several lawns of different sizes that are used for private functions, which could range from small get-togethers to elaborate parties. The ICG’s facilities are located on 14 acres of land on the Taleigao Plateau at Dona Paula, Goa. The plateau overlooks the confluence of the famous Zuari river and Arabian sea.

The Goa Union of Working Journalists (GUJ)

GUJ is a trade union body of working journalists in Goa. It is affiliated to Indian Federation of Working Journalists, New Delhi. The GUJ has been always in forefront to fight for the cause of working journalists in the State. Apart from trade union issues of working journalists, the GUJ has also been consistently taking up issues related to profession of journalism. It has also been in forefront to take up public issues. As for instance, it was GUJ which successfully spearheaded a historic agitation to compel the then Goa Government to withdraw a draconian clause in its Right to Information legislation and participated in the process of getting a comprehensive Right to Information Act in Goa in 1997.
